

Installing the Cryo LX

The Cryo features an USB to DC cable for powering the fans and cooler. Connect this to your an powered USB port in order power the cooler.(Photo one)

There is also an USB to USB cable located at the left of the DC connection. This allows transfer of data between the notebook cooler and your computer. This connection must be made in order for the four USB ports to function properly. Photos of the DC-USB and USB-USB cables are on the next page.

Both DC-USB and USB-USB cables should be connected
